

AN INCREASE IS GRANTED.

All of the protesting property owners along the stream also have their objections removed. Having decided upon the location, we have secured options and agreements covering the entire river front from Second street to Hargraves street on the east side and from Second street to the head of the river on the west side.

We also recommend for the council's approval that the committee be empowered to expend a part of the money placed in its hands in constructing the piers of the dam high enough to serve as abutments for an iron bridge at Second street. The piers can be built within the appropriation and the bridge itself will cost about $500, when erected. We believe that this plan will meet the hearty approval of the people and that the public improvements made will be of inestimable value to the city in many ways.

Respectfully submitted,
CHAS. M. MEACHAM,
G. E. RANDLE,
J. B. GALBREATH,
E. H. HIGGINS,
COMMITTEE.

October 3, 1911.

On motion the appropriation of $1,550 was increased to an amount not to exceed $2,500, to build the dam and bridge combined, as recommended in the committee's report. The mayor was authorized to appoint a special officer for not exceeding 60 days to assist the city engineer in looking after the large amount of street work now going on. H. D. Denton has been named for the place, with police authority.

The Bridge Committee was directed to receive bids at once for an entire new concrete floor in the North Main street bridge, which has never been accepted by the city. The floor, the third one, will be paid for out of the amount held back from the contractors.

The council adjourned till some night this week, to be fixed later.

Re-Union At Crofton.

The annual re-union of federal soldiers who enlisted from this county was held at Crofton last Saturday.

Notwithstanding the rainy bad day quite a number were present and after partaking of the kind hospitality of the ladies of Crofton, the soldiers assembled at the Christian church, where they had music and a number of addresses by the comrades, Mrs. Moore, of Chicago, Capt. Pratt, M. B. Brown, John B. Martin, Wm. Kimbro, Jas. M. Clark and others making addresses.

Miss Ernise Flowers recited a beautiful poem, and Mrs. Cassie Croft and Miss Cora Brown played and sang "Just before the battlemother" that so touched the old comrades that there were but few dry eyes amongst them. M. B. Brown, President, and C. A. Brasher, Secretary, were re-elected by acclamation.

WEST SIDE REVIVAL

Sunday a Busy Day With Evangelist Ratcliff.

The services at the Second Baptist church Sunday were unusually interesting and far reaching.

The morning sermon on the subject, "The Wonderful Christ", was eloquently delivered to an interested audience. In the afternoon the house was filled with mothers and daughters so inspired with the earnest and tender appeals that they unanimously pledged themselves to be better mothers and daughters. Also at the mass meeting for men the preacher made even a stronger appeal to them to be better husbands and fathers, portraying vividly the horrors of a sinful life and the blessedness of a christian life.

At night service, though Mr. Ratcliff had spoken four times previously, his message grew more earnest and eloquent and was probably the most effective of all. The house was filled. Even neighbors brought in chairs, children sat on the rostrum, members of the church stood up to give seats to outsiders, others stood in the hall and class rooms and at windows on the outside, others turned away finding the house so crowded. Surely the main auditorium is already in demand.

As he portrayed a glimpse "Of A Lost Soul In Hell" parents, wives and children wept and played for lost loved ones. What a powerful appeal it was; yet some are so hardened that he asked with fiery eloquence if he must lengthen his arm into the confines of the redeemed in Paradise and bring back a glad soul to tell of the joys of that blissful realm before they would seek to go there.

There is one very notable feature about Mr. Ratcliff's preaching, he never exhausts his subject, always quitting rather than finishing. He impresses his audiences with his unlimited reserve forces.

Services during the week at 3:15 P. M. and 7:30 P. M.

OPERATION UNSUCCESSFUL.

Sad Death of Mrs. Fannie Fairleigh Ware, In Louisville.

Mrs. Fannie Fairleigh Ware, who went to Louisville last Friday and underwent a operation for gall stones, at Norton's Infirmary, died Saturday evening following the operation. Her mother, Mrs. Anna Fairleigh went with her and on Saturday at 11:30 her brothers, Tom and Bob Fairleigh and her sons, Fairleigh and Wallace Ware left over the I. C. Railroad and reached Louisville at 6 p. m. She died the same evening. The body was brought home yesterday and the funeral was held from the family residence yesterday afternoon. Rev. A. R. Kasey, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the services.

Mrs. Ware was the second daughter of the late Dr. K. M. Fairleigh and widow of the late James Dudley Ware. She was a lady of many accomplishments and personal graces and was prominent in her church and in works of charity and in kindness. She was also conspicuous in the club life of the city, holding membership in several of the leading literary and social clubs. She is survived by two sisters, in addition to other near relatives named above. Mrs. A. W. Wood, of this city, and

Mrs. Edward Curd, Jr., of Oklahoma.

Many friends feel a profound sorrow at her untimely death. She left home little expecting that death was so near. She had planned to take up her literary work upon her return, saying she expected to be gone only a few weeks.

When you want to make trips to the country or go pleasure riding I am now in a position to serve you. Purely Personal

E. L. Bartley, of Washington, D. C., spent Sunday with his brother, T. L. Bartley. Mr. Bartley was enroute to Huntington, Ind., where he has a position with the Southern Railroad company.

R. S. Green has gone to Frankfort on business.

Robert Wolfe, who returned home ten days ago on account of illness, has resumed his studies at the Cumberland City, Tenn., school.

Mrs. T. E. Tate is quite ill at her home in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wood, of Hewesville, are visiting relatives here.

John Nairn, manager of the Mogul Baseball team, dropped in the city yesterday from Danville, Ill. He likes Hopkinsville so well he would like to secure a position and locate here.

Miss Janie Graham has returned from a visit to Elkton.

Mrs. Frank Yost entertained Thursday afternoon in honor of her sister, Miss Allie Bottomlev, of Louisville. Mrs. Yost and the honoree were assisted in receiving by Mesdames J. H. Daggs, Hunter Wood, Jr., Frank Dabney and W. D. Cooper, and little Misses Margaret Yost and Elizabeth Dabney met the guests at the door. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. John Stites was the host at a party at Lake Tandy last week for two days with Mrs. Barksdale Hamlett as chaperon. The guests were Misses Frances Summers, Virginia Butler and Naomi Johnson and Will Summers and Alex Overshiner. Thursday evening there was a dinner attended by about 20 guests.

List Still Growing.

Out of a total of seventy-four persons believed to have perished in the Austin, (Pa.) disaster, the remains of sixty-two have been taken from the ruins. Two additional bodies were recovered Sunday.

Mrs. Vest Felt Like Crying.

Wallace, Va.—Mrs. Mary Vest, of this place, says, "I hadn't been very well for three years, and at last I was taken bad. I could not stand on my feet, I had such pains, I ached all over. I felt like crying all the time. Mother insisted on my trying Cardui. Now I feel well, and do nearly all my housework." No medicine for weak and ailing women, has been so successful as Cardui. It goes to the spot, relieving pain and distress, and building up womanly strength, in a way that will surely please you. Only try it once.

Back At Home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ballard, who went to California about a year ago to reside, have returned to this their former home to live. Mr. Ballard took a drink from the Rock Spring many years ago, and he thinks the effect of that drink will never wear off.

Captain Cherry's Promotion.

Capt. S. A. Cherry, conductor on the Tennessee Central railroad, has been appointed Contracting Freight agent of the company, with headquarters at Hopkinsville. All communications regarding the solicitation of business to and from this point should be addressed to him.
